

Family Promise of Southern Delaware is an affiliate of Family Promise, a national organization established in 1986. With over 200 affiliates, we follow the Family Promise National Model by working to prevent and eradicate homelessness in communities across the nation.

There are no shelters serving families in Sussex County. We are there when a family's homelessness is imminent. We work to avoid that trauma by providing assistance with rental payments, utility bills, security deposits, and first month's rent. To reduce the risk of future homelessness we provide training programs on tenancy and financial wellness.
