OCEAN VIEW PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

FEBRUARY 2023

From the Pastor: Terry Dougherty

The hand of the Lord was upon me, and He took me out by the *wind of the Lord and set me down in the valley, and it was filled with bones. And He made me pass by them all around, and, look, they were very many on the surface of the valley, and, look, they were very dry. And He said to me, :Man, can these bones live?" And I said, "O Master, Lord, it is You Who knows." And He said, "Prophecy to these bones and say to them,

'O dry bones. Listen to the word of the Lord.
Thus said the Master, the Lord, to the dry bones: I am about to bring breath into you and you shall live. And I will lay sinews over you and bring up flesh over you and stretch over you skin. And I will put breath in you, and you shall live, and you shall know that I am the Lord.'"
And I prophesied as I was charged, and there was a sound as I prophesied and, look, a clatter, and the bones came together, one bone to another. And I saw, and look, upon them were sinews, and flesh came up, and skin stretched out over them from above, but there was no breath in them. And He said to me: "Prophecy to the wind, prophecy, man, and say to the wind, 'Thus said the Master, the Lord: From the four winds, come, wind, and blow into these* slain that they may live.'" And I prophesied as He had charged me, and the breath came into them and they lived, and they stood up on their feet, a very, very great legion. (Ezekiel 37: 1-10)

Grace and Peace to you in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, Sisters and Brothers;

Here comes Lent – the season in which we examine ourselves for signs of life and health, under our God and for our world. After the pandemic (at least the part we're willing to acknowledge – it is still with us), after our long time more apart than we liked, or, sometimes, realized; after our many recoveries. And Lent finds us still standing; maybe a little dry, maybe a little creaky, maybe a little wary, but standing.
Standing and taking stock of where we are now; because it is different. Not threatening different, but unsettling different. Our attendance is down, our giving is down, our volunteerism is down. And I don't mean to be a downer; I am not Ezekiel. But I do pose the question, through Ezekiel: Can these bones live?... and I say, unequivocally, YES! In fact, that is God's good will for us, as it has always been for the household of god, known as Israel and known for us as Christ's church in the world.

Our penitential season is one of re-assessment, of course, but it is under the eye of our God who never wavers from love for us, and whose will is love for us; steadfast love. Our Bible tells us the human story as a sequence of failed relationships interspersed with successful ones; the factor that mitigates all this is human unreliability, which, in human freedom, pulls the veil over and over again that hides us, and all the earth, from the warmth of God and from all of our and its purpose.

The expulsion from Eden, the first such instance, was not a death sentence imposed by God, but a free (if really bad!) choice by human beings. Yet, God wills our recovery of our right minds, and right relationship, ever since. So much so, that love, grace and forgiveness are the qualities we know God by, despite the hardship of our alienation.

And the very first example is telling, because it is of the first human born "naturally", Cain. Cain was spared the consequences of the second named sin; and it was not failure to keep the Sabbath, or even to honor mother and father. No, it was murder.

We recognize two things about ourselves in Lent. Yes, we are faulty, fallen, forgetful and ungrateful. But also - we can be reclaimed, renewed, reconciled and revived by the God who loves us as children, in all our waywardness. The God who gives us an image, and a power, and personal characteristics we share with God.

Can we live? Yes, and abundantly! Will we live? That is in our hands, all the days of our lives. We can always choose God, whatever has gone before. And God always chooses us.

I wish you a holy and a meaningful Lent, dear friends!

In Christ, Pastor Terry

America,

Christopher Columbus from Italia,

maybe he did see
ecstasy in an enticing grace of tail

a face too much like a man.

Dear Ocean View Presbyterian Church Sewing Circle,

On behalf of the Board of Directors and volunteers of the Lighthouse for Broken Wings, thank you for your gift of $500 for our Sheltering Heart program "Help Our Cause". Your support enables us to fulfill our mission, to help those without a roof over their heads and a warm bed to sleep in.

Gifts enable the Lighthouse for Broken Wings to provide Code Purple emergency housing during the winter months for all of the individuals who have no home. The program uses the holistic approach of wrap-around assistance including medical, psychiatric and occupational therapy services.

Homelessness continues to increase. As of January 2021, Delaware had an estimated 1579 experiencing homelessness on any given day, as reported by Continuums of Care to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). We will work with each individual that comes into our program to help them improve their housing situation.

Thank you for joining us in the fight against homelessness!

Sincerely,

Connie

Dear Ocean View Mission Committee,

Words can hardly express our gratitude for Ocean View's gifts of $1,125 and Deacon's gift of $1,000 to help in funding Westminster's UNRWA* Gaza Water Project! Your gifts, combined with an Ignite Grant and additional Westminster gifts and budget monies will provide a Desalination Unit for another UNRWA school! Congratulations! You can know you had a significant part in providing clean water for an entire school this coming year.

UNRWA has been present in Palestine for over 70 years providing humanitarian services including: food assistance, education, and healthcare to refugees in Palestine. The majority of the funding comes from countries so for churches to provide a vital part of the school infrastructure is a true accomplishment!

UNRWA-USA has given a pathway forward to assist the students of Gaza and we are proud to be a partner of this program and UNRWA-USA.

The Middle East Task Force looks forward to updating you as our Water Desalination Unit moves forward with design, construction, and implementation!

Dear Ocean View Presbyterian Church,

Thank you for your generous support of Southeast Rural Community Assistance Project, Inc. (SERCAP), and for supporting small grants to low-to-moderate income (LMI) individuals in Sussex County, Delaware. Your grant of $4,000.00 to SERCAP's certified CDFI (Community Development Financial Institution) Loan Fund will enable the agency to provide small grants to LMI homeowners, that will in-turn allow the agency to provide loan/grant combinations for home improvements which include septic repairs and replacements. The loan/grant combinations will stretch SERCAP's available lending capital, further enabling the organization to serve more LMI clients.

Your support of SERCAP will improve the quality of life for the beneficiaries of the small grants. Specifically, the grant recipients will see an improvement to both their Environmental Health and their Economic Self-sufficiency. Access to clean, safe drinking water and environmentally sound wastewater disposal solutions is critical to public health, neighborhood revitalization, and overall community growth.

Thank you again for your generous contribution, and we look forward to continuing this relationship long into the future.

Sincerely,

Chalking the door on New Year's Day

Worship Committee

Jen Read

The Worship Committee meeting was held in Fellowship Center at 1:30 on Thursday, January 19, 2023. Pastor Terry opened the meeting with prayer. After approving the December minutes, the committee discussed the Services and Sacraments of January and February. Members reported many positive comments from the congregation regarding the choir, the new bulletin format, including the inclusion of a calendar in its pages.

Kathy Sheetz reported that fewer poinsettias will be ordered next year because a large number went unclaimed in December. Kathy also suggested that Worship Committee might want to consider purchasing two arrangements of silk flowers on hand for Sundays when fresh flowers aren't delivered.

Treasurer Jane Bonbright reported that WC's scaled-down budget was approved. We will continue to work with the finance committee to learn the procedures for contributing back donations of service or goods that are made by members.

Eric Neumann will update our outdoor sign for Ash Wednesday services.

Kris Taylor, our liaison to Deacons, reported that the Deacons have selected a treasurer and that they send thanks to Jane Bonbright for her card ministry.

Sue Baer, our liaison to Session, reported that Session is conducting a budget analysis and aligning membership records.

Because there are so many diverse activities held at OVPC, the Worship Committee has designed a survey to measure the congregations interest in each event. This will help make the best decisions in coordinating time and resources to provide the best possible events for our church community. The Worship Committee is hosting coffee hour on February 12 at which time we will have displays and information to let the congregation know what our committee does. The Survey of Events will be distributed at this Coffee Hour. Results will be posted by the end of March.

The Worship Committee is reviewing and updating our job description. We are also gathering information regarding the purchase of new large-print Bibles for the pews.

A motion was passed unanimously for the Worship Committee to sponsor a regular WHO WE ARE and WHAT WE DO discussion. The first one will be held after church on March 5. It will be a reciprocal "Getting to Know You" between any members who wish to attend and OVPC. We will give an overview of the history, events, activities, and missions of OVPC. Committee heads will be invited to give a brief explanation of what their committee does to further to vision of OVPC,

This session will last for ONE HOUR. Pictures will be taken, coffee and treats will be served. All are welcome. Those who attend on March 5 will be invited back if they indicate that they want to know what it means to be a Presbyterian. Pastor Terry and those who indicate an interest will choose a day and time the following week for that session.

On April 2, Palm Sunday, after church, we will have a Celebration of the Enrichment of our Congregation. Everyone will be invited to meet and celebrate our newly-oriented members. Again, pictures will be taken and treats will be served. This class will be offered regularly as needed.....and we hope it will be at least quarterly.

The meeting was closed with prayer at 3:15. Eric doesn't tolerate dilly dally.

SCAM ALERT

I received a letter saying someone with my same name was dying and wanted to give their estate to me. It sounded fishy.

You are right to be suspicious. It's almost certainly a scam. If you went through with it there would be some sort of "good faith" fee or payment due from you to them, which they would take and then either disappear or keep pestering you for more.

My husband got a call from someone claiming to be with our utility company with a threat to turn off our power if we didn't pay up. Was that right?

No. Utility companies will notify you by mail if you are overdue in your payments. Often, during changes in the weather or extreme temperatures, criminals pose as utilities to try to scam people into sending them money. Hang up on these callers and let the actual utility company know these calls are happening.

I needed to call my bank and so I did an online search for the phone number, and five different numbers came up. What's up with that?

This is a new trend. Criminals place fake customer service phone numbers online to trick people into calling them. If you need to call customer service, always go directly to the website of the company, or look on your account statement or on the back your bank card.

Counting our Chickens...

A Thank You Message from Guatemala

Thank you! Gracias! Chjonte! During our recent Chicken Project campaign, we raised funds for 2,240 chickens! This means that 112 indigenous women will each receive a set of 20 chicks, feed and training in 2023.

We invite you to watch this video - a personal thank you message from one of the participants who just loves her fat and healthy chickens!

Back in August, the first group of 37 women started this program. By December, they had already raised and sold their 20 chickens for meat, primarily to neighbors in their community. With a portion of their profits, they immediately bought a second batch of chickens to repeat this cycle. The women report that they are using the remainder of their profits to cover household expenses and send their children to school. Several women kept a chicken for themselves so they could have traditional tamales on Christmas Day!

This project will continue into the new year, so if you have not made a gift yet, there is still time. To learn more about this project, click here. Custom gift cards for any occasion are available. Thank you for your generosity!

Good morning friends and Happy New Year!

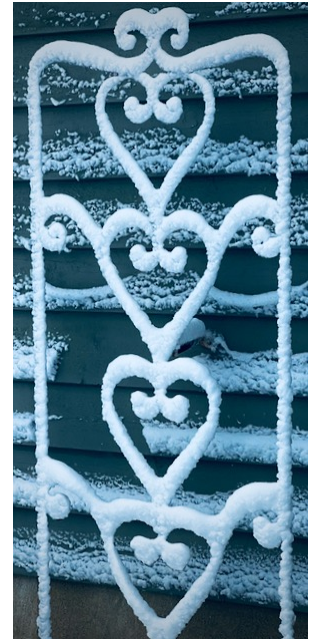

Hopefully you just received our latest Guatemala Partnership update in your inbox. As you can see, we had a very successful Chicken campaign during Advent, thanks in part to the wonderful promotion you all have done in your respective churches. It made a huge difference this year. Thank you!

Please let your members know the results of this campaign. We don't like to use dollar amounts (for the security of our partners) but saying how many chickens the women will receive in 2023 is just fine. Below is the link to the Mailchimp article as well as the direct link to the Thank You video. Please let me know if you need anything else.
